BOY MAY DIE FROM SHOTGUN INJURIES

Eugene Edgner Shot Accidentally by Six-Year-Old Brother.

ELKHART, Oct. 5.—Eugene, four-year-old son of Charles O. Edgner of east of Goshen, may die from injuries received when a gun in the hands of his six-year-old brother was accidentally discharged. The contents inflicted such serious injuries to the boy's right leg that it was necessary to amputate at the knee.

The accident occurred at the home of a neighbor, Michael Anglemeyer, where the Edgner children were playing with three-year-old Noble Anglemeyer.

To get the gun the Anglemeyer boy placed a chair on top of another one and with the Edgner children supporting the chairs he climbed on top and pulled it from a rack which he could barely reach.

The gun was loaded only a few days ago so that it could be used in event of another visit from chicken thieves who had stolen several fowls from the Anglemeyer yard.

The boy slipped and the gun was discharged.

Charles Eddleman of Dunlap suffered a collapse Monday morning when he shouldered a sack of wheat in his barn. Some of his heart muscles are believed to have been strained and his back and hips were sprained. Mrs. Eddleman's attention was called to her husband by his cries. She attempted to get him to the house but he became unconscious and it was several minutes before he rallied sufficiently to be assisted to his room.

A suitcase containing $15 worth of laundry—waists, napkins and similar articles belonging to Trinity Methodist church—was stolen from the basement of the church Sunday while services were being held there. The police futilely searched all the alleys near the church. Early this morning the case was found in the New York Central yards by a call boy, who notified the police, and it was restored to church authorities. The contents were believed to be intact.

Wesley Swartz and his wife of 206 S. Main st., were arrested Sunday night charged with the theft of $103 from William Wilson, a roomer. Officer Hummel made the arrests.

Wilson, according to his story, took Mr. and Mrs. Swartz to Simonton lake to supper last night and when he returned to his room his money was missing. He made an affidavit charging them with the theft. They gave bonds for their appearance today. Officers searched in vain for the missing money, one of them even going to the lake to look for it.

EDITOR LEAVES TRAIL OF WORTHLESS CHECKS

G. B. Terrell Disappears From Rossville After Having Trouble.

FRANKFORT, Ind., Oct. 5.—G. B. Terrell, who for the past few months has been editor and proprietor of the Journal, published at Rossville, has left the town, leaving behind him his office and all the equipment, and a number of worthless checks. These checks, which bear the signature of G. B. Terrell, were cashed by citizens of Rossville, who learned later there was no money in the bank to Terrell's credit.

Adrian Smith, cashier of the Rossville bank, said today that two of the checks given by Terrell were cashed by a Lafayette bank, and returned to the Rossville bank for collection, but were turned down for want of funds. He also said persons in Rossville, who held checks given by Terrell before his flight, had not presented them to the bank, because the bank had informed them there was no money to meet them.

Mr. Smith also said Terrell forged a check made payable to himself on the Rossville bank for $16.25, which he cashed at Greenfield, and that in addition to the forged check, he had forged the same of Mr. Smith, certifying the check was good.

The office of the Journal was bombarded a few weeks ago by unknown persons, the windows being broken and stones thrown against the door, to attest, it was stated, the general disapproval with which the efforts of Terrell were meeting to arouse the town and its citizens. Terrell, appealed to the night officer to arrest the persons, but the officer, who was sick and he could not leave her. Recently the juvenile court here took charge of a small son of Terrell's and placed him in the White institute at Wabash, because of alleged improper home conditions.

In the last issue of the Journal Terrell apologized for the apparent secrecy of news, saying the editor was being "tracked in body and mind with that dread malady, indigestion—whose evil influence was known only to those who have experienced the pang." The editor, moralizing further, stated that it would probably not be long until he "crossed the river to take his rest beneath the shade."

The citizens of Rossville regret the suspension of the Journal, and have already taken steps to buy the plant. The paper was established by C. M. Walter, and was sold by the heirs to Will Landis. Mr. Terrell buying the paper from Mr. Landis.

"WYMAN HATS"

AT THE ORPHEUM STYLE REVUE.
The question of supplying hats for the various costumes from a local store was taken up by the Management of the Style Revue and this privilege was accorded George Wyman & Company.

At 11 o'clock our millinery department was shown thirty costumes, each requiring a particular type and color of hat and each model requiring an individual style. At the first performance, the 2:30 matinee, thirty hats had been taken direct from the Wyman stock to the Orpheum.

No one in the audience would have conceived the idea but what each hat had been designed especially for each costume. The fact that they came direct from stock, without any previous preparation, that they were up to the minute in style and color, is a practical demonstration of what the Wyman Millinery Department is doing every day for hundreds of customers.

The Style Revue at the Orpheum, where many beautiful gowns, suits, coats and hats are shown, is an exposition of the newest Fall Styles, correctly worn by seven beautiful models in appropriate surroundings, will continue today and tomorrow.
